

Print stacks of savings...

When you need it.

When purchasing a printer what is often forgotten is, the largest cost is actually using it. The initial purchase cost is potentially less than 30% of the total investment over the printers life. Over time we have discovered a rule you can apply to assist you with selection of the correct printer, and in conjunction with Fuji Xerox we now have the ability to lock in a fixed price for your prints. Putting you back in control of your printing costs.

A key rule to consider when purchasing a printer is the less you pay for a printer the more it costs you to print.

So whether you are looking at a new printer, or just to establish how much your current printer is costing you, you must really look at your print volumes, and what you are printing in conjunction with the purchase price. With some simple details, Aish can assist you by performing these calculations and if appropriate we can put you onto our new program for fixing your printing costs.

Aish in conjunction with Fuji Xerox have the ability to simplify your print cost calculations and are able to provide a fixed cost per page

- No matter what coverage
- Printing in colour or black & white
- Keep your printer under warranty for life of agreement
- Keep supplies in your office at no additional cost to yourselves
